

Guidelines on the equivalence of confidentiality and professional secrecy regimes of third-country authorities

(EBA/GL/2022/04)

These EBA guidelines are addressed to competent authorities, as defined in point 2 of Article 4 of Regulation (EU) No 1093/2010.

The EBA/GL/2022/04 refers to the evaluations carried out by the EBA on the confidentiality and professional secrecy regimes to which third country competent authorities are subject in order to determine whether they are equivalent to the requirements established under the European regulations on the exchange of information, professional secrecy and confidentiality.

In these Guidelines the EBA publishes the list of third-country authorities whose regimes are recognized as equivalent for the conclusion of cooperation agreements and the participation in the prudential supervisory colleges, resolution colleges and in the colleges for the prevention of money laundering and financing of terrorism.

The adoption by the EU competent authorities of the Guidelines implies the recognition of a list of third countries regimes as equivalent within the framework of Directive 2013/36/EU (Capital requirement Directive, CRD) Directive 2015/2366 (Payment Services Directive, PSD2), Directive 2014/59/EU (on the Bank Recovery and Resolution Directive, BRRD) and the Directive 2015/849 (the AntiMoney Laundering Directive, AMLD).

Specifically, these new Guidelines replace, since 16 August 2022, EBA Guidelines/Recommendations EBA/REC/2015/01 y the following amendments: EBA/REC/2017/01, EBA/REC/2018/01, EBA/REC/2018/03 y EBA/GL/2020/03.

It concludes with the recognition, as equivalent in terms of confidentiality, of 45 competent authorities based on CRD, 5 based on PSD2, 5 based on BRRD and 5 based on AMLD.

These Guidelines have been developed by the EBA in accordance with article 16 of Regulation (EU) No 1093/2010. The EBA published the English version of these Guidelines on 3 May 2022 (the Spanish version was released on 15 June 2022).

With the exception of the "Central Bank" of the territory of Kosovo, the Banco de España, in its double role of competent authority and preventive resolution authority of the less significant credit institutions, as well as in its role of the competent authority for the direct supervision of payment institutions and electronic money institutions, adopted these Guidelines as its own on 13 September 2022.

1. Executive summary

Over the past few years, the EBA has assessed the confidentiality regimes of third-country supervisory authorities to facilitate the application of Article 116(6) Directive 2013/36/EU (Capital Requirements Directive – CRD), which states that third countries' supervisory authorities may participate in EU supervisory colleges 'where appropriate and subject to confidentiality requirements that are equivalent, in the opinion of all competent authorities' established by the CRD. The results were first published in a set of Recommendations in 2015, then amended in 2017 and 2018 to include other third-country authorities that had been assessed as equivalent. In 2020, the Recommendations were amended to include another third-country authority and the title was changed to 'Guidelines'¹.

Regulation (EU) No 1093/2010 (the EBA Regulation), as amended in 2019, states in Article 33 (4) that the EBA shall cooperate 'with the relevant competent authorities, and where applicable, also with resolution authorities, of third countries whose regulatory and supervisory regimes have been recognised as equivalent' through administrative arrangements concluded with the relevant authorities of those third countries. Similarly, Article 55 of the CRD, also applicable in conjunction with Article 24(3) of Directive (EU) 2015/2366 (Payment Services Directive – PSD2), Article 97 and 98(1) of Directive 2014/59/EU (Bank Recovery and Resolution Directive – BRRD), and Article 57a (5) of Directive (EU) 2015/849 (Anti-Money Laundering Directive – AMLD) all provide for the possibility for EU authorities to conclude cooperation arrangements with authorities from third countries. A key precondition for such arrangements to be concluded is that the third-country authorities are subject to a professional secrecy and confidentiality regime that is deemed equivalent – as relevant – to that applicable under Union law, as the latter is set out in Title VII, Chapter 1, Section II of the CRD (which is also relevant in the PSD2 context in accordance with Article 24 of the PSD2), Article 84 of the BRRD and Chapter VI, Section 3, Subsection IIIa of the AMLD.

To facilitate cooperation with third-country authorities as well as the functioning of supervisory and (where relevant) resolution colleges, the EBA performs its equivalence assessment evaluating the professional secrecy and confidentiality regimes applicable to third-country authorities (hereafter 'the assessment'). This assessment relies on the satisfactory presence of key elements equivalent to those in the EU confidentiality regime provisions applicable to third-country authorities. The key elements of the EU confidentiality regime are defined in Articles 53-61 of the CRD (also relevant to the PSD2 in accordance with Article 24 of the PSD2) and, where relevant, by Article 84 and Article 98 of the BRRD and Chapter VI, Section 3, Subsection IIIa of the AMLD. This assessment is reflected in the table in the Annex showing the provisions applicable to each third-country authority for each of the principles that define the EU confidentiality regime.

¹ The new Article 16(1) of the EBA Regulation states that 'the Authority shall, with a view to establishing consistent, efficient and effective supervisory practices within the ESFS, and to ensuring the common, uniform and consistent application of Union law, issue guidelines addressed to all competent authorities or all financial institutions.'

Next steps

The Guidelines will be translated into the official EU languages and published on the EBA website. The deadline for competent authorities to report whether they comply with the Guidelines will be two months after the publication of the translations. The Guidelines will apply two months after the publication date at the latest.

2. Background and rationale

2.1 Confidentiality regimes and supervisory colleges

1. Article 116 (6) of the CRD, as well as European Commission Delegated Regulations² on the functioning of supervisory colleges, provide for the possibility of third-country authorities participating in such colleges as observers on condition that those authorities are subject to a professional secrecy and confidentiality secrecy regime equivalent to that applicable under Union law³.
2. The EBA is tasked with contributing to the establishment of high-quality common regulatory and supervisory standards and practices, inter alia by developing guidelines and recommendations with a view to:
 - contributing to the consistent application of legally binding Union acts;
 - facilitating the establishment of a common supervisory culture;
 - ensuring the consistent, efficient and effective application of Union law;
 - preventing regulatory arbitrage;
 - mediating and settling disagreements between competent authorities;
 - ensuring the effective and consistent supervision of financial institutions; and
 - ensuring the coherent functioning of supervisory and resolution colleges.
3. Therefore, in order to facilitate the application of Article 116(6) of the CRD and provide common guidance for cases in which a third-country supervisory authority were subject to an equivalent confidentiality and professional secrecy regime to that applicable in the Union, over the past few years the EBA has assessed a number of third-country supervisory authorities. These assessments have been reflected in the Guidelines on the equivalence of confidentiality and professional secrecy regimes of 2015, (EBA/REC/2015/01 - REPEALED, in their version as last amended in 2020 by EBA/GL/2020/03).

² COMMISSION IMPLEMENTING REGULATION (EU) 2016/99 of 16 October 2015 laying down implementing technical standards with regard to determining the operational functioning of the colleges of supervisors according to Directive 2013/36/EU of the European Parliament and of the Council OJ L 21 of 28.01.2016 p. 21; COMMISSION DELEGATED REGULATION (EU) 2016/98 of 16 October 2015 supplementing Directive 2013/36/EU of the European Parliament and of the Council with regard to regulatory technical standards for specifying the general conditions for the functioning of colleges of supervisors OJ L 21 of 28.01.2016 p. 2

³ It is noted that Articles 88 and 89 of the BRRD, as well as Article 50 seq. of COMMISSION DELEGATED REGULATION (EU) 2016/1075 of 23 March 2016 (OJ L 184 of 8.7.2016 p. 1), also provide for the same requirement in the context of resolution colleges.

2.2 Confidentiality and cooperation arrangements

4. In addition to the efficient functioning of supervisory colleges, equivalent confidentiality and professional secrecy frameworks in third-country authorities are also relevant for international cooperation and collaboration arrangements.
5. To this extent, Article 33(4) of the EBA Regulation states that the EBA shall cooperate 'with the relevant competent authorities, and where applicable, also with resolution authorities, of third countries whose regulatory and supervisory regimes have been recognised as equivalent' through administrative arrangements concluded with the relevant authorities of those third countries. In a similar manner, Article 55 of the CRD, also applicable by virtue of Article 24(3) of the Payment Services Directive (PSD2) for cooperation in supervision in the area of payment services, Article 97 and 98 (1) of the Bank Recovery and Resolution Directive (BRRD) and Article 57a (5) of the Anti-Money Laundering Directive (AMLD), all provide for the possibility for EU authorities to conclude cooperation arrangements with authorities from third countries.
6. A key precondition for such arrangements to be concluded is that the third-country authorities are subject to a professional secrecy and confidentiality regime that is deemed equivalent to that applicable under Union law, as the latter is set out in Title VII, Chapter 1, Section II of the CRD (also relevant in the PSD2 context in accordance with Article 24 PSD2), Article 84 of the BRRD and Chapter VI, Section 3, Subsection IIIa of the AMLD.
7. In light of the above, the EBA is widening the scope and purpose of the assessment so that it can facilitate:
 - the functioning of supervisory colleges under Article 116 (6) of the CRD and – where relevant – resolution colleges under Articles 88 and 89 of the BRRD and AML/CFT colleges under the AML/CFT Guidelines⁴;
 - cooperation with third-country authorities within the remit of banking, payment services, AML/CFT supervision and resolution matters.

2.3 Purpose of the Guidelines

8. The Guidelines provide guidance that should inform the opinions of competent authorities (including tasks such as consolidating supervisors or group level resolution authorities) as to whether the third-country authorities are deemed to be subject to a professional secrecy and confidentiality regime equivalent to that applicable under Union law, as set out in Title VII, Chapter 1, Section II of the CRD (relevant also within the PSD2 context and in accordance with Article 24 PSD2), Article 84 and 98 of the BRRD and Chapter VI, Section 3, Sub-section IIIa of the AMLD, for the purposes both of the functioning of the supervisory and resolution colleges under Article 116 (6) of the CRD and Articles 88 and 89 of the BRRD and for the conclusion of cooperation

⁴ See joint guidelines on cooperation and information exchange for the purpose of Directive (EU) 2015/849 between competent authorities supervising credit and financial institutions:

https://www.eba.europa.eu/sites/default/documents/files/document_library//Joint%20Guidelines%20on%20cooperation%20and%20information%20exchange%20on%20AML%20-%20CFT.pdf

arrangements. To this extent, the present Guidelines also apply for the purpose of cooperation arrangements signed with third-country authorities in accordance with Article 57a(5) of the AMLD to support the establishment of AML/CFT colleges in line with the AML/CFT Guidelines.

9. The Guidelines do not include guidance on whether there is a need for a cooperation arrangement between a competent and a third-country authority or on whether a third-country authority should participate in a supervisory or resolution college.
10. The content of the previous Guidelines will therefore be incorporated into the present Guidelines without any change in substance.

2.4 Scope of the assessment

11. The EBA has performed the assessment evaluating the professional secrecy and confidentiality regime applicable to each third-country supervisory authority included in these Guidelines. In particular, the legal regime applicable to each third-country authority was assessed with respect to the four principles that are deemed to be the key characteristics of the EU professional secrecy regime as set out in the CRD, PSD2, BRRD and AMLD:
 - i. PRINCIPLE 1: the regime contains the notion of confidential information [Article 53(1) CRD; Article 57a(1) AMLD; Article 84(3) BRRD; Article 24 PSD2];
 - ii. PRINCIPLE 2: the regime contains specifications on the existence of professional secrecy obligations [Article 53 and 54a CRD; Article 24 PSD2; Article 57a AMLD; Article 84 (1-3) BRRD];
 - iii. PRINCIPLE 3: the regime restricts the use of confidential information [Article 54, 56, 57, 58, 58a and 59 CRD; Article 84(3), 84(5) BRRD; Article 57a, 57b AMLD; Article 24 PSD2];
 - iv. PRINCIPLE 4: the regime establishes restrictions on the transfer of confidential information [Article 56-61 CRD; Article 84(4), 84(5) and 98 BRRD; Article 57a and 57b AMLD; Article 24 PSD2].
12. The table in the Annex provides information on:
 - a. whether the provisions applicable to each third-country authority have been assessed with respect to relevant provisions in the CRD, PSD2, BRRD, AMLD, as applicable;
 - b. the legal references of the third-country authorities' regime, for each of the principles above.
13. These Guidelines are issued on the basis of Article 16 of the EBA Regulation and aim to fully inform the opinion of the relevant authorities referred to as competent authorities in Article 4 (2) of the EBA Regulation. The EBA expects to receive confirmation of the competent authorities' compliance or of their intention to comply irrespective of whether there is an actual case of a cooperation arrangement's conclusion or college participation.

14. In accordance with Article 16(2) of Regulation (EU) No 1093/2010, the EBA must, where appropriate, conduct open public consultations and analyse the costs and benefits of guidelines (CBA) and request advice from the Banking Stakeholder Group (BSG). In this instance, the EBA has not conducted an open public consultation and CBA because these measures would be disproportionate considering that these Guidelines, the majority of whose content is a consolidation of previous EBA guidelines on the equivalence of confidentiality regimes, are addressed exclusively to competent authorities, concern their practices in relation to other authorities, and do not directly affect financial institutions.
