

Banco de España-SUERF Conference: Financial Disintermediation and the Future of the Banking Sector

Madrid, 30 October 2018

Programme

- 08:30 Registration
- 09:00 Opening remarks
Pablo Hernández de Cos (Governor, Banco de España)
- 09:15 Keynote speech I
Philip Lane (Governor, Central Bank of Ireland)
- 10:00 Session 1: Financial disintermediation and the role of monetary policy and financial regulation
Chair: Thomas Vlassopoulos (Head of Monetary Analysis Division, ECB)
Óscar Arce (Director General Economics, Statistics and Research, Banco de España)
Leonardo Gambacorta (Research Adviser, Monetary and Economic Department, BIS)
Steven Ongena (Professor, University of Zurich)
- 11:30 Coffee break
- 12:00 Session 2: FinTech and the future of the banking sector
Chair: Patricia Jackson (Non-executive Director, Atom Bank and SUERF Council Member)
David T. Llewellyn (Professor, School of Business and Economics, Loughborough University and SUERF Council Member)
Loriana Pelizzon (Professor, Goethe University Frankfurt)
Javier Sebastián (Principal Economist, Digital Regulation and Trends, BBVA Research)
- 13:30 Lunch

14:30

Keynote speech II

Luc Laeven (Director-General of the Research Department, ECB)

15:15

Policy panel on Capital Markets Union

Chair: Michala Marcussen (Group Chief Economist, Société Générale and SUERF Council Member)

Rodrigo Buenaventura (Director General for Markets, CNMV)

Andrea Enria (Chairperson, EBA)

Nicolas Véron (Senior Fellow, Bruegel and Visting Fellow, Peterson Institute for International Economics)

17:00

Concluding remarks

Jakob De Haan (Head of Research, De Nederlandsche Bank and SUERF President)