

30 September to 2 October

Aim and content

To analyse in depth the current trends and best practices in information management underpinning research and the dissemination of economic expertise in the central banking arena, as well as finding out about progress in projects promoted jointly or individually by participating institutions. To encourage the exchange of knowledge and experience between members of CEMLA and other representatives of libraries and documentation centres of central banks and international financial institutions worldwide.

Latest trends and good practices related to information management. Development of libraries and documentation centres specialising in economics and central banking topics. Users and sources of information. A joint session will be organised with the 6th Central Bank and International Financial Institutions Librarians Workshop.

Professional profile of attendees

Heads of libraries and documentation centres of CEMLA member institutions.

Organisation and format

The seminar is organised by the Banco de España in collaboration with CEMLA. It will be held in Madrid in Spanish and English, if there are any attendees requiring this language.

There will be morning and afternoon sessions, with expert speakers from the Banco de España and from other institutions.

Participation is by invitation only. Registrations will be processed by CEMLA.
