

Chile, 4 and 5 April

Aim and content

The aim is to provide a forum for the central banks of Latin America and the Caribbean and financial supervisory agencies to discuss current themes relating to bank accounting.

The content will cover: the role of accounting today; crisis and international financial reform; relevant auditing and accounting issues at international level.

Professional profile of the participants

Senior officials of central banks and financial supervision authorities interested in exchanging their experiences of banking activity and accounting in the current setting.

Organisation and format

The Conference is co-organised by CEMLA, FLAR, ASBA and the Central Bank of Chile.

Participation is by invitation only.