ECB sanctions Banque et Caisse d'Épargne de l'État, Luxembourg for misreporting capital requirements

- ECB imposes penalties amounting to €1.685 million on Banque et Caisse d'Épargne de l'État, Luxembourg
- Bank breached market and credit risk reporting rules

The European Central Bank (ECB) has imposed two administrative penalties amounting to a total of €1.685 million on Banque et Caisse d'Épargne de l'État, Luxembourg for misreporting calculated risk-weighted assets for market and credit risk.

Between 2018 and 2022, for 17 consecutive quarters, Banque et Caisse d'Épargne de l'État, Luxembourg understated its risk-weighted assets connected to foreign exchange exposures by failing to accurately capture its USD-denominated positions in the own funds requirement for foreign exchange risk in accordance with prudential requirements.

Furthermore, between 2021 and 2023, for eight consecutive quarters, the bank understated its risk-weighted assets by not considering an indirect equity position when calculating the exposure amount of qualifying holdings outside the financial sector. As a result, the bank neither deducted the relevant exposure amount from its own funds nor applied the correct risk weighting prescribed by the applicable framework.

Risk-weighted assets are a measure of the risks a bank has on its books. They serve as a basis for banks to calculate their capital requirements. Underestimating risk-weighted assets means the bank did not calculate its capital requirements properly and reported higher capital ratios than it should have. This prevents the ECB from obtaining a comprehensive view of the bank's risk profile. Capital ratios are key indicators of a bank's capital strength and its ability to absorb losses.
