Javier Pérez
Associate Director General Economics

Place and date of birth

Seville, 15 January 1971

Academic qualifications, distinctions and awards

1994	Degree in Economics. Universidad Complutense de Madrid.
1999	PhD in Economics. Universidad Complutense de Madrid. With honours.

Career details

2025 to date	Associate Director General Economics. Banco de España.
	Member of the Monetary Policy Committee. Eurosystem.
	Member of the Board of Trustees of the Complutense Institute for International Studies.
2025	Director of the Monetary Policy and International Economy Department. Banco de España.
2021-2022	Co-lead of the Eurosystem's International Relations Committee's work stream on Open Strategic Autonomy.
2020-2021	Co-lead of the Monetary Policy Committee's work stream on globalisation (review of the European Central Bank's monetary policy strategy).
2019-2025	Director of the International Economics and Euro Area Department. Banco de España.
	Member of the International Relations Committee. Eurosystem.
2018-2019	Director of the Economic Developments Department. Banco de España.
2015-2019	Member of the Monetary Policy Committee. Eurosystem.
2015-2018	Head of the Conjunctural Analysis Division. Banco de España.

2008-2015	Head of the Public Sector and Fiscal Policy Unit. Banco de España.
	Member of the Working Group on Public Finance. Eurosystem.
2007-2008	Principal economist. Fiscal Policies Division. European Central Bank.
2006-2007	Senior economist. Fiscal Policies Division. European Central Bank.
2001-2006	Associate lecturer. Economics Department. Universidad Pablo de Olavide. Seville.
	Senior researcher. Centro de Estudios Andaluces. Andalusia regional government.
1999-2001	Economist. Fiscal Policies Division. European Central Bank.
1994-1999	Assistant lecturer. Quantitative Economics Department. Universidad Complutense de Madrid.
	Team leader of the International Economics area, and of the ICAE and ERISTE reports.

Last update: 20 October 2025